The history of Hokkaido shrine

This Hokkaido Jingu enshrines three deities for the reclamation of Hokkaido. The reclamation of Hokkaido was begun when the Meiji Restoration succeeded.

Emperor Meiji selected protecting deities for the reclamation of Hokkaido and enshrined them in this shrine in 1869.

Hokkaido used to be called "Ezo" the name of one of the groups of Ainu. The Meiji Government changed it to Hokkaido in 1869. "Hokkaido" means "road for the north sea".

Every reclamation decision of Hokkaido (except the southern area, i.e., Matsumae, Hakodate) began from here.
